LEXINGTON:

SATURDAY, JAN. 24, 1834.

Mr. Davis from the Committee of propositions and grievances in the Senate, reported against the memorial to divide and ruin the counties of Mercer and Lincoln.

The legislature of Missouri has created a new County to be styled JOHNSON, in honor of the "world renowned" conqueror of Tecumseh.

The nomination of the Hon. James M. Wayne, to be Judge of the Supreme Court, in the place of Judge Johnson deceased, has been confirmed by the Senate.

BANK OF KENTUCKY.

We learn from Louisville, that on Saturday last, the following gentlemen were elected Directors of the Bank of Kentucky.

John I. Jacobs, W. Riddle,
L. S. Shreve, G. Stewart,
W. H. Pope, Wm. Bell,
W. Fellows, Wm. Garvin.

Mr. S. Medary remarked in a speech in the Ohio Legislature:

"Gentlemen had said there was no danger of the Bank again asking a re-charter. Sir, there is. It will come up—come up in another shape—it will come up under a different name—it will be the old Wig still, with a new QUEEN."

NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Pennsylvania Reporter, recommends Pittsburg as the most central, and most convenient place for the meeting of the Delegates of the National Convention. It strikes us forcibly that the recommendation is a prudent one, and various considerations in favor of it must occur to the democratic party, and we trust the press every where in the East and West will unite in this object.

The Pennsylvania Convention of March will in all probability select the time of the meeting of the Convention which will not be later than the 4th of July. It is most earnestly desired that there shall be a full attendance of the party. These nominations will be regarded with intense interest by the American people of both political parties, from the almost certain prospect of success which they will have.

The Winter, has been unusually severe at the North; more so than for the last fifty years at some places. At Albany the thermometer was 30 degrees below zero. It was very cold at Boston, Portland, &c.

In Kentucky the winter has been mild and beautiful; a most fortunate occurrence for the farmers after the failure of our crops last fall.

STATE BANK OF KENTUCKY.

The Governor has nominated Robert J. Ward, George Buchanan and George Keats, Directors on the part of the State in this institution.

The Bank party is overthrown at Pittsburg at last. The Democrats succeeded in electing their Mayor and their School and Common Councilmen. Pittsburg is the strong hold of the opposition in Western Pennsylvania.

CITY OFFICERS.

At a meeting of the Mayor and Board of Councilmen on Thursday last, the following City Officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz:
City Clerk, Daniel Bradford.
City Marshal, Charles H. Wickliffe.
City Attorney, Richard Puddell.
City Printer, J. Clarke & Co.
City Collector, John Wirt.
City Treasurer, Thomas W. Hawkins.
City Assessor, John Henry.
Assistant Assessor, Wm. Stubbfield.
City Day Watch, George L. Wollard.
City Night Watch, Leven Young.
City Night Watch, Edward J. Pullen.
City Night Watch, Charles Henderson.
City Night Watch, William B. McClain.
Weigher of Market, John Hughes.
Inspector of Weights & Measures, M. Hezue.
Keeper of Grave Yard, Leven Young.

The "Patriot and Shield" a most valuable Democratic paper, printed at New Lisbon, Ohio, makes the following announcements:—We have copied a similar paragraph from the "Democratic Herald," Dayton. We shall present a bold and undivided front in the West on the Presidency and Vice Presidency.

VICE PRESIDENCY.

It will be observed, by reference to the head of this column, that we have given preference to Col. R. M. JOHNSON of Ky. as a candidate for the vice presidency. From all the facts that we have been able to collect, relative to public sentiment, it is evident, to us at least, that the people will sustain this announcement. With the public character of Col. Johnson the people are somewhat conversant and in point of patriotism and talent, he is amply qualified for the station.

The Philadelphia Aurora of the 10th says:—"There would be some irregularity in touching the question of nominations, had not the trespass been already made, therefore it is, that we do not hesitate to offer as our opinion, that the man who stands fairest, and with the best title to a nomination for the Vice Presidency, is Col. R. M. JOHNSON."

It seems to be the opinion of the best informed persons on the subject, that the French Chambers will not pass the appropriation bill to pay the indemnity to the United States, unless the President's Message shall have the effect of rousing them up to serious action on the subject.

BARGAIN AND INTRIGUE.

The decency party in Kentucky, who style themselves the only Simoa Pures in politics, have recently made the startling discovery that the Hon. Christopher Tompkins cannot be re-elected to Congress, and that Mr. Hise must inevitably succeed him, which would be a clear gain of an administration member. All the invention and tactics of the dominant party are now in requisition to defeat this state of things—and so far the arrangement is, that Judge Underwood must resign and become a candidate for Congress to prevent if possible the election of Mr. Hise. To insure harmony and the success of this management, E. M. Ewing of Logan is to be appointed in Underwood's place, as his share of the spoils for his consent to the arrangement; and as to poor Tompkins we are not informed what provision will be made for him, or whether he nullifies or not. Those who run Mr Underwood suppose that having worn the mantle of authority for awhile, as a cloak to his canting hypocrisy in politics, he must of necessity be a formidable competitor—but Democracy humbles its recreant oppressors every where, and the ex-judge can have nothing more to hope than the rest of the tribe of lawyers and charlatans who are determined to "rule or ruin" the country. The fate of the Bank attorneys, thus far at least, ought to be a solemn admonition to new adventurers, who, at most can only be in at the death of the "monster."

Our present purpose, is simply to call the attention of the people to this subject—and the events of a few months will either verify or contradict our information.

The Georgetown Sentinel of the 11th inst. remarks:

"It is, therefore, important that, in regard to candidates for President and Vice President, a general and decided expression of public opinion should be speedily made. It is important that every section of the country should take means to exercise its entire legitimate influence in the deliberations of the Convention, so that whatever nominations are made will be certain to meet with the approbation of a majority of the party, and ensure the support of all. As far as expressions of public sentiment have been made, and as far as we are capable of judging of the state of feeling, Richard M. Johnson and Martin Van Buren are the individuals most likely to receive the nomination of the Convention. A ticket bearing these names could not fail to succeed. Both gentlemen have been long and favorably known to their countrymen. Each has performed his public duties with ability and zeal, and each has been firm and unwavering in the support of the honor and greatness of his country, and careful to preserve the purity of her laws and freedom of her institutions. From several causes we are, however, led to prefer the nomination of Col. Johnson. He is a citizen of the West, and endeared to its inhabitants by associations at once the most pleasing and abiding of all others. It is for the West that he has endured the hardships and sufferings of the soldier; for her that he has spoken and acted in public and in private life; and as he is one who has done more for her citizens than any other man, it is more than justice that he should have the highest reward!—Although his friendship for the West has been constant and unabated, he has not been less the friend to other sections of the Union. What ever it was in his power to do, has always been done, to ameliorate the hardships or perpetrate the blessings of his countrymen, regardless of all considerations save those of humanity. His reputation has long been public property, and he has had, as every high-minded and independent public man must have, clamorous and unmercenary opponents; but their efforts to lower him in public estimation have thus far served but to increase his hold on the affections of the people. That he is pre-eminently qualified for the office of President, is manifest to all eyes. No man is more justly entitled to the office of President, than he who has been so long and so faithfully in the service of his constituents or more honored by them with a greater amount of confidence. His character and habits, in our opinion, are such as are most appropriate for the Chief Magistrate of a nation whose pride and glory is to avoid all ostentation and display. Plain and unaffected in his manners; profoundly yet not mystically in his reasoning, he seeks rather to enlighten the judgment, than to feed the vanity or please the fancy; the vanity or please the fancy of those with whom he may be associated. With enlarged and comprehensive views, he rather looks to the general bearing and future effect of any measure, than to the local or transient benefits which it may confer. Slow and deliberate in forming opinions, he is firm and consistent in their support, yet ever ready to listen with respect to those with whom he may differ. We know of no individual who would be more likely to command the whole strength of the Democratic party and who would be more cordially and liberally supported. We shall be happy to see him nominated by the Convention, but should that body upon a fair consideration of the wisdom of a majority of the party, deem another choice advisable, we shall be ready to sacrifice our private preference, rather than to do anything which might tend to weaken the party."

COL. R. M. JOHNSON.

We have placed the name of this gallant soldier, and able advocate of civil liberty, at our mast head as a candidate for Vice Presidency, subject however to the decision of the National Convention. The history of Col. Johnson, military and civil, is too well known to our readers, to render it necessary, for us to give our reasons for this course. They are to be found in the distinguished services he has rendered his country, in the field and in the Councils of the nation; they speak for him "trumped tongue," and a grateful people will hear and reward.

A letter has been received in Philadelphia from England which states that Mr. E. Forrest is about to appear on the London boards in the character of Spartacus in the Gladiator.

From the Columbus Hemsphere.
With Martin Van Buren, and Richard M. Johnson, a phalanx of strength would be formed, sufficiently strong and powerful to oppose with perfect ease and success, all the efforts of their opponents.

The Washington Globe, of the 3d inst., says:—"The basis of the Treaty of 1783, as the boundary between the State of Maine and the British dominions, will satisfy the people of Maine. That basis was secured by the treaty of Ghent, and we have good reason to believe will not be yielded by the present Administration. The present Administration will appoint no commissioner, or consent to the choice of no new umpire, that is disposed to give up any territory that rightfully belongs to any state of this Union. The basis of the treaty of 1783 will be rigidly adhered to by this Government, as fixing the North eastern boundary of the State of Maine. The opposition in Massachusetts and Maine need not anticipate that this Administration will with impunity yield any right to, or suffer any wrong to be done by Great Britain, on this question of boundary."

In a recent trial of speed between the U. S. Frigate United States, and a fleet of English frigates, the former beat them all, handsomely—thus proving that our boast of superior naval architecture is well founded. The trial was in beating to windward.

We learn that Mr. J. M. Estil of Madison County, has sold two thirds of his improved and celebrated horse, COLLIER, for $4000, and that Collier is expected to make his Spring Season in Madison county.—Lex. Int.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
THURSDAY, JAN. 15, 1835.

Petitions were presented by Messrs. Chevis, Jordan, and Jasper.

On motion, the regular business was postponed for the purpose of taking up the congressional bill. The House resolved itself into a committee of the whole. The bill was opposed by the Speaker, Messrs. Anderson and Davis, and advocated by Messrs. Phelps and Burks. The committee then rose, and the vote on the passage of the bill was taken, and stood as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Andrews, Austin, Beaman, Bate, Bowling, Bristow, Brown, Burks, Burnett, Chevis, Cunningham, Deane, Drake, Dyar, Gaines, Garing, Gorman, Grubb, Harris, Harrow, Hays, Hollingsworth, Hartsfield, Jasper, Johnson, Leighton, Lewis, Mansfield, C. C. Marshall, Murray, Myers, Phelps, Sharp, Spigge, Stevens, Stevenson, Sudbush, James Thomas, John J. Walker, Trimble, Turpin, J. T. Walker, J. V. Walker, Williams and Wilkey—45.

From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce.
VERY LATE FROM EUROPE.
The packet ship South America, Capt. Waterman, arrived below on Saturday afternoon, and about 8 o'clock we received our papers by express across the island, viz, London to the evening of Dec. 15th and Liverpool to the 17th.

The new British Ministry was formed on the 15th.

The advices from Paris are to Dec. 13th, evening. Nothing had transpired on the subject of the American Treaty.

In England much dissatisfaction was manifested in many places at the revolution in the Ministry; public meetings were being held almost without number; but no acts of violence had been committed.

London, December 11.—The King held a privy Council yesterday, which was attended by the Lord Chancellor (Lyndhurst) the Duke of Wellington, Marquess of Camden, Earls of Roslyn, Amherst, and Jersey, Lords Ellenborough, Cowley, and Maryborough, Sir R. Peel, Sir C. M. Sutton, Sir John Beckett, Sir H. Hardinge, Messrs. Goulburn and Herries—our future Reformers.

Sir R. Peel was sworn into office as Chancellor of the Exchequer, and received the seals of office from the King. He will also be First Lord of the Treasury; but with respect to the latter some delay must take place.

Parliament was ordered to be further prorogued from the 18th of the present month to Thursday the 15th of January. But this is a mere matter of form as Parliament can be dissolved at any time. Nothing, however, is yet known of the dissolution, though it is probable that the moment the ministerial arrangements are completed it will take place.

London Dec. 15.—To the amazement caused by the coup d'état at Brighton, and the interregnum of the Duke, has succeeded a deep determined feeling of disgust and resentment at the impudent experiment now making of forcing back upon us the children and the champions of the old abominable systems—the Goulbourns, the Herries, the Grauville-Somersets, the Billies Lowthers and H. Lees, the Dawsons, the Hardinges, and Horace Twisses—the quarter-day apostate patriots, and all the offensive half-forgotten, who lorded it over us in the old borough-mongering days, which we fully thought were never to return.

The people, we say, will not suffer these men to be their masters again.—They will not bear them under their old Master the Duke, and his colors; nor will they allow themselves to be cheated by them, under the false pretence of his demerit.

The elections will soon decide the question, at once and for ever. Neither force, nor fraud can give these impudent adventurers an increase to their present force of more than thirty or forty votes; and what will that strength be?—not a fourth of the total number of the House? All the counties put together, in England, Ireland, and Scotland, return only 254 members, and if these so-called Conservatives had them all—what then? But some of these deluded men say they have 280 or 300 secure. It is not true; but suppose it were—what then? In the one case, the smooth-faced gentleman on the Treasury Bench meets Parliament with a majority of 98; in the other, 68 against him. Did ever Minister do this before, after a dissolution?

Has any man a right, with such prospects to make such an experiment? Has he a right to throw the country into confusion by the dissolution of a two years Parliament? Where is the precedent for such conduct.

We hope, and we believe, that the first day of the next session will not pass over without a motion of inquiry as to who dared to advise His Majesty to dismiss his last Government—who adhered to advise him to dismiss his late Parliament without cause of complaint against either the Government or the Parliament, and without any chance of administering the affairs of the country by other men, or with other measures.—Morning Chronicle.

From the Globe, Dec. 15th.
The very names," says our friends the Post, of Chandos, Murray, Knatchbull, Baring, Goulburn, and Herries, afford a triumphant reply to the cavils and affected doubts of our ex-Ministerial contemporaries."

They do indeed. Secession itself could have no farther room for cavil, Charity the most boundless can now have no one compassionate doubt.

The impression made in town, wherever men do congregate, by the announcement of this batch of commoners is scarce grave enough to be termed contempt. It is sheer derision. It is scant belief that such a squad are actually in office—and total unbelief that they can keep office a couple of months.

FRANCE.—The Chamber of Deputies, after a day or two of inter-regnum, resumed its sittings on Saturday, December 13th. The business commenced at about half-past one. M. Dupin in the chair. After some reports were made upon petitions of local interest, the President of the Council, the Duke de Trevis, read a project of a law relative to the Midway School of St. Co. There were not more than 150 deputies present.

London, Dec. 15.—Lord Rosslyn, it is confidently reported does not go to Holland, and Lord Cowley is named as Ambassador to Paris.

The Paris paper [the Constitutionnel] states that Prince Talleyrand speaks of a letter which he has received from the Duke of Wellington, inviting him to visit London, and assuring him that no alteration would be made in the foreign relations of the country."

The principle topic of reflection at present in the Paris papers is the election of the editor of the National before the Chamber of Peers, for publishing in his journal an article derogatory to the dignity of the body. In pursuance of this convention M. Roux, the respectable editor of the National, presented himself at the bar of the Chamber of Peers on Friday last, and on his application a delay of four days was allowed him for the purpose of preparing his defence.

At the sitting of the Court of Assizes yesterday M. Bichat, editor of the Tribune, was arraigned for a libel against the King, contained in an article published in that journal, entitled "Du Pape et de la Compagnie," in which allusions were made to the events at Lyons, and to the unfortunate duel in which M. Dulong was killed.—M. Bichat was found guilty, and sentenced to 12 months imprisonment and a fine of 6,000 francs.

French Funds, Paris, Dec. 13. Five per cent. 100 5/8; Four per cent. 93 1/2; Three per cent. 76 1/2.

Paris, Dec. 12. M. de Broglie is definitively appointed Ambassador to London. Nothing is waiting for to make this nomination official, but in view of the ministerial arrangements of the English Cabinet.

It was said on 'Change, that the Chamber intended to apply to the National the maximum of the penalty, viz, five years' imprisonment and the loss of 20,000 francs. This may be the wish of some fanatic, such as we sometimes meet with, but we find it difficult to believe that the Chamber of Peers can have so far engaged itself that it will condemn, and to what penalty it will condemn.

People have long considered as a joke the announcement of a claim made by the Emperor of Russia, as invested with the rights of Poland, to a considerable indemnity, which he pretends to be due by France to that unhappy nation in consequence of the wars of the empire. It is stated that the indemnity claimed is 150 millions, and that Prince Kiskieff is commissioned to demand the payment of it. It was affirmed today that the claim is serious, that all the documents in support of it have been received by the Russian Legation, and that it is believed that every thing may be hoped from the usual complaisance of the Duc de Nemours.—Messenger, Dec. 13.

Can she Spin.—A young girl was presented to James L. as an English prodigy, because she was deeply learned. The person who introduced her, boasted of her proficiency in ancient languages. "I can assure your majesty," said he, "that she can both speak and write Latin, Greek and Hebrew." "These are rare attainments for a damsel," said James; "but pray tell me can she spin."

Bears are as plentiful as blackberries this season. In Pennsylvania, two children have been killed and a man shockingly mangled by them.

Tests.—Prosperity and adversity equally try the constancy of the human soul.—He who is inspired by real magnanimity will but display it in adversity.

In marriage, prefer the person before wealth, virtue before beauty, and the mind before the body; then you have a wife, a friend and a companion.

Witty Remarks.—A young clergyman, who possessed every requisite for the pulpit but a good voice, having occasion to preach a probation sermon for a lectureship, a friend congratulated him, as he descended from the pulpit, observing that "he would certainly carry the election but had nobody's voice against him but his own."

The three Wives.—A sister came to Copley, father of the present Lord Lyndhurst, and had himself, his wife, and some children, all included in a family piece. "It wants something," said he, "and that is the portrait of my first wife for this one is my second." "But," said the artist, "she is dead, you know, sir; what can I do? She is only to be admitted as an angel." "Oh no, not at all," answered the other, "she must come in as a woman—no angels for me." The portrait was added, but some time elapsed before the person came back. When he returned he had a strange lady on his arm. "I must have another cast of your hand," Copley, he said; "an accident befel my second wife; this lady is my third, and she is come to have her likeness included in the family picture."

The painter complied—the likeness was introduced, and the husband looked with a glance of satisfaction on his three spouses; not so the lady—she remonstrated—never was such a thing, heard of—nor her predecessors must go. The artist painted them out accordingly, and had to bring an action at law to obtain payment for the portraits which he had obliterated.

"I always think," said a reverend guest, "that a certain quantity of wine does a man no harm after dinner." Oh no, sir," replied his host, "it is the uncertain quantity that does the mischief."

Women fifty years ago.—We recommend to the perusal our lady readers the following passage from Sir Jonah Barrington:—

"In fact, woman fifty years since (and much later) not being generally speaking, thrust into society till they had arrived at the age of maturity, were more respected, more beloved, and more sedulously attended than in these days, when the men seem to have usurped the ladies' corsets, to effect their voices, practice their gait, imitate their small talk, and in various and various, hustle the ladies off the foot path, to save their own dogs skins from humidity."

This degradation of both sexes has arisen from various causes. Beauty is apparently become less rare, accomplishments more common, dress less distinguished, dignity worse preserved, and decorum less attended to, than in former times. It is a great mistake in women not to recollect their own importance, and keep up that just medium between reserve and familiarity which constitutes the manners of a gentlewoman. But women are apt to run into extremes in every thing; and overlook the fact, that neither personal beauty nor drawing-room display are calculated to form permanent attractions, even to the most adoring lover. The breakfast table in the morning, and fire side in the evening, must be the ultimate touch stones of conjugal comfort; and this is a maxim which any woman who intends to marry should never lose sight of."

The next meeting of the Lyceum, will be held in the Laboratory at the Medical Hall on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. A lecture will be delivered by Dr. Yandell on "Chemistry applied to the Arts."

All are invited to attend.
